Words from Monsignor Rob Kinnally

Responding to the Good Shepherd's Call

On this Good Shepherd Sunday, the Church asks us to be attentive to the call to priesthood, religious life, and the diaconate. "World Day of Prayer for Vocations" is an invitation to ask the Lord of the harvest to send more workers into the vineyard – more disciples who live entirely in the service of the Gospel.

I was privileged to serve as director of vocations of our diocese and rectory of our college seminary for several years. In my time working with our seminarians, I was humbled by their generous response to God's call to priesthood and their courage in choosing to do something countercultural – spending their lives caring for souls. Priests, brothers, sisters, and deacons, make the promise to spend their time doing what Christ asks them to do for the sake of the Kingdom of God. We pour ourselves into the daily work of caring for our parishioners, students, patients, the poor, troubled, and all who are searching for God. We do it with a deep trust in God who gives us what we need to serve and love without condition.

Many of you will remember John Imbimbo, a seminarian for the Diocese of Bridgeport, who was with us last summer. John's presence among us gave great hope about the future of priestly ministry in our diocese. But his commitment and the sacrifices he makes to answer God's call are also a challenge for others – perhaps some from our own parish family – to remain open to God's call to full-time ministry in the Church. Parents, please encourage your children to pray about becoming a priest, brother, sister, or deacon. The Church is grappling with a declining number of people in the ranks of ordained and consecrated life. However, I want to be clear about something: there is no vocation crisis – God always calls; there is a "saying yes" crisis. We have to pray intentionally that those called will say "yes," and we have to pray daily for those who are giving their lives for God's people.

All of you make my priesthood a life-giving joy. Thank you for your prayers for me, for Father Bob, Father Franklin, Father Flavian, Father Tim, Deacon Bill, and Michael Crane and Michael Baber – our parishioners who are candidates for the permanent diaconate.

May the Good Shepherd enfold you in His love always.

Monsignor Rob

P.S. Seminarian John Imbimbo will join us again this summer! He will arrive May 18.

Second Collection next weekend will be for Catholic Home Missions Appeal and Black and Indian Mission

Next weekend, our special collection supports the Catholic Home Missions Appeal and Black and Indian Mission collection. Nearly 40% of dioceses in the United States and its territories are unable to fund the essential pastoral work their communities need. This appeal assists our brothers and sisters both here in the United States and elsewhere who do not have access to basic pastoral services like Mass, the sacraments, and religious education. Through your support, help is available for mission dioceses form vibrant faith communities and strengthens the Church at home and also Black and Indian missions through grants to African American, Native American and Alaska Native Catholic communities. Please be generous.

This Sunday April 21st, the Church throughout the world prays for vocations. Will you make a special effort to ask the Lord for more vocations to the priesthood and religious life?

- Pray for the priests who have ministered to you throughout your life, both living and dead.
- Keep our parish priests in your prayers throughout the week.
- Encourage your children, grandchildren, or other young people to consider a vocation as a priest or religious brother or sister.
- Pray a rosary for more young men and women in our diocese to respond to God's call.

Invite Our Blessed Mother in YOUR home

Our Lady appeared to three children in Fatima, Portugal in 1917. She asked them to tell the world to pray the Rosary for world peace. Her request is as important now as it was then. The beautiful statue of the Blessed Mother was brought back from Fatima to St. Aloysius in 2005 and has been traveling to families in our parish since then. Those who have had the statue and prayed the rosary speak of the blessings received.

Rosary beads and instructions on how to say the Rosary accompany the statue. Please take the opportunity to introduce this beautiful devotion to your family. If you have any questions about the statue or how to say the Rosary or would like to reserve a time to have the statue, please call or email Sue Lione, (203) 966-5961 or slione@optonline.net.
