Words from Father Rob Kinnally

Understanding the Mass – The Liturgy of the Eucharist, Part 2

The Eucharistic Prayer, continued. The next part of the prayer is the offering. In this part of the prayer, the priest joins the offering of this Mass to the perfect sacrifice that Jesus made on the Cross. The priest offers this sacrifice back to God the Father in thanksgiving for God's abundant gifts, particularly the gift of salvation in Christ. The priest also prays that the Holy Spirit may come upon the faithful and by receiving the Body and Blood of Christ, they themselves may become a living offering to God.

The intercessions follow; here are mentioned the Pope, the local bishop, Mary, Saint Joseph, the patron Saint of the church, and the deceased. Confident in God's loving care, the gathered assembly makes this sacrifice on behalf of the living and the dead, for the leaders of the Church and for all the faithful.

The Eucharistic Prayer concludes with the Final Doxology (a word derived from the Greek meaning "glory" or "honor"). The celebrant makes the prayer through, in, and with Jesus, in union with the Holy Spirit, and presents it to God the Father. The people respond with the Great Amen, a joyous affirmation of their faith and participation in this great sacrifice of praise.

Why-Do-We-Do-That? Fact: Why do we ring bells during the Eucharistic Prayer? Before sound amplification was installed in churches, bells were rung to alert the people to what they could not easily see or hear, so that they could attend to the important and solemn action at the altar. Today, use of the bells is optional, since language, posture and acoustics generally permit the congregation to follow the action of the Mass. Still, many parishes continue ringing bells to underscore and draw attention to the solemnity of certain moments of this great prayer: the epiclesis (or calling down of the Holy Spirit upon the gifts of bread and wine) and the consecration.

A Word or Two about Advent

It's hard to believe that we are in the season of Advent! I pray that we may embrace this season of waiting with hope that is renewed in us at Christmas. I want to share with you some wisdom from Henri Nouwen about hope.

"Optimism and hope are radically different attitudes. Optimism is the expectation that things—the weather, human relationship, the economy, the political situation, and so on—will get better. Hope is trust that God will fulfill God's promises to us in a way that leads us to true freedom. The optimist speaks about concrete changes in the future. The person of hope lives in the moment with the knowledge and trust that all of life is in good hands."

May this Advent fill you with joyful anticipation and the consolation that God keeps His promises.

Father Rob

The message proclaimed throughout Advent is this: prepare your hearts, for our God is sending a Savior, Emmanuel, a name which means, God-with-us.

God is ready to give us a fresh vision and the grace we need to lose self and find God. God wants to work in and through us for the greater honor and glory of God. That is why God expects great things from us, which are in fact possible by the grace of God at work in our lives.

May the Lord strengthen us to overcome temptation, participate in the Liturgy and Sacraments of the church and to persevere in our life of prayer and service in the Church. God is always ready and willing to fill us with grace, strength and power.
