Words from Father Rob Kinnally

The Mass

Beginning this week, I will offer a series of essays on The Mass. If we understand the meaning of what we are experiencing when we gather on Sunday (and during the week), the Mass will become for us a better prayer, and a more meaningful encounter with Christ who is present in Word and Sacrament. Each week I will use different resources so that readers can learn about some of the key Catholic texts available in print and online. I hope you find the series helpful.

--Father Rob

What does Mass mean and why do Catholics use the word?

The English word "Mass" comes from the Latin word missa, which means to be "sent." This Latin word has been used since the 6th or 7th century to describe the Catholic celebration of the Eucharist, our main liturgical service. The word is used during the conclusion of the celebration, when the priest or deacon says in Latin, Ite, missa est. The literal translation of that phrase is, "Go, it has been sent."

Pope Benedict XVI expanded on these words in his encyclical Sacramentum Caritatis. He wrote, "In antiquity, missa simply meant 'dismissal.' However in Christian usage it gradually took on a deeper meaning. The word 'dismissal' has come to imply a 'mission.' These few words succinctly express the missionary nature of the Church. The People of God might be helped to understand more clearly this essential dimension of the Church's life, taking the dismissal as a starting- point."

Instead of seeing the words of the priest or deacon as a conclusion to the celebration, Pope Benedict saw them as a beginning. He made that abundantly clear when he developed new words for the dismissal at Mass. Pope Benedict approved the phrases, "Ite ad Evangelium Domini annuntiandum (Go and announce the Gospel of the Lord)" and "Ite in pace, glorificando vita vestra Dominum (Go in peace, glorifying the Lord by your life)." Both of these dismissals focus on the missionary character of the Mass and how those in the pew are meant to go out in the world, sustained by the Eucharist they just received.

Viewed in this framework, the "Mass" is not just a single celebration on a Sunday or weekday or feast day, but a starting-point for a lifelong journey of Christian witness. The priest, in the place of Christ, sends forth his parishioners into the world so that they may be beacons of light, set on a hill for all to see.

Bishop Caggiano is asking for prayers as he and all the priests throughout the Diocese of Bridgeport prepare to gather at the Sixth Convocation of Priests from Sunday, October 9, through Wednesday, October 12. The Convocation, which, due to Covid, had not taken place since 2017, will be held this year at the Seminary of the Immaculate Conception in Huntington, NY.

The theme of the Convocation is "The Road to Emmaus: Reading Scripture from the Heart of the Church." The talks for the Convocation will be given by Dr. Scott Hahn. An exceptionally popular speaker and teacher, Dr. Hahn has delivered numerous talks nationally and internationally on a wide variety of topics related to Scripture and the Catholic faith. The purpose of the three-day meeting is to strengthen the fraternal bonds among the priests and to provide a time of spiritual renewal for them so that they may return with an even greater commitment to service.

Thank you for your prayers and support toward this very important event in the lives of our priests and the Diocese.
