Words from Monsignor Rob Kinnally

A New Chapter for Father Flavian

Bishop Caggiano has appointed Father Flavian the administrator of another parish in our diocese, effective January 1, 2027. How blessed are the parishioners who will welcome such a holy, hard-working, and joyful priest to lead them! Because this will not be announced at the other parish until Saturday afternoon, I am withholding the name of the parish until this weekend when I will announce it at the Masses.

While I am very sad to think about Father Flavian leaving Saint Aloysius, I must remember that the life of a diocesan priest is framed by obedience to our bishop and the bishop's responsibility to care for the needs of his entire diocesan family.

In his three years here at Saint Aloysius, Father Flavian brought to ministry the many gifts that God has given him. Whether it was his joyful spirit, his ability to make connections with our teens and young adults, his proficiency in Spanish (and his new competency in Italian), his consistent "yes" to doing what needed to be done in caring for God's people, or his unique talent as an accordionist-par-excellence, Father Flavian poured himself into all aspects of this larger-than-life parish family. I am truly inspired by him because he gave himself freely and completely to our family of faith while he was so far away from his own family in Romania. He and other priests who have joined us from afar are courageous and filled with trust in God who calls us to serve Him.

My brother priests will miss Father Flavian's presence in our house and his sincere fraternal support. I am personally grateful for his generous spirit and his willingness to take on more after I was out of commission following my hip fracture and recovery. More than anything, I speak on behalf of our entire parish family when I say thank you for all that you have done to love us, Father Flavian; we will pray for you as you take on parish leadership, and we look forward to your visits with us in the future!

Next week I will announce the name of the priest that will come to serve the parish, and in the weeks to come I will let you know the date of the celebration where we will gather to wish Father Flavian all the best as he begins a new chapter in service to God's people.

Yours in Christ,

Msr. Rob

ALL SOULS' DAY MASS OF REMEMBRANCE

Monday, November 2nd at 5:30 pm

We will read the names of all parishioners who passed away between 11/3/2025 and today.

If you would like to add the name of a family member or friend who passed away in the last year (but might not be a parishioner or did not have their funeral at Saint Aloysius), please email their name to John Palma at jpalma@starcc.com.

Eucharistic Adoration

Eucharistic Adoration will be held in the Chapel on Thursday afternoons from 4:00–5:15 p.m. throughout October.

Come and spend some quiet time in prayer
- no sign-up is needed!

Help Us Make Project 1,000 a Success!

This weekend, our Level 1 Confirmation students will be collecting donations after all Masses for Project 1,000! Your generosity will help us fill 1,000 Christmas stockings for children in need and support our high school teens' mission trip to Kentucky.

Through our partnership with the Christian Appalachian Project, our teens will distribute the stockings to families in need. For many of these children, this may be the only gift they receive. Thank you for helping us bring joy and hope to these families!

Can't donate at Mass? You can give securely online through Youth Ministry Donations. Please note "Project 1,000"

We also need donations of any amount to help cover our required chaperone trip costs and a $400 sponsor for our Team BBQ Dinner during the trip. Please get in touch with Chris Otis at youth@starcc.com or donate by clicking this ad and note it is for "Kentucky Mission Trip."

Music Notes for the 30th Sunday in Ordinary Time Dr. John Michniewicz, Director of Music

The readings for the 30th Sunday in Ordinary Time center on the two great commandments: love of God and love of neighbor. In the Gospel, a scholar of the law asks Jesus which commandment is the greatest. Jesus answers that the greatest and first commandment is to "love the Lord, your God, with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your mind," and continues, "The second is like it: You shall love your neighbor as yourself." The First Reading, from the Book of Exodus, gives concrete examples of the love of neighbor: protecting the stranger, the widow, the orphan, and the poor, following the Lord's example of compassion, "I am compassionate." Psalm 18 extols the love of God in its refrain, "I love you, Lord, my strength," while the Second Reading shows love lived out in the church at Thessalonica, whose faith became known far beyond its own city.

Sunday's Entrance hymn, Love Divine, All Loves Excelling (W-642), highlights love, echoing Jesus' words in the Gospel, and describes Jesus as the "source of all compassion." The Presentation hymn, In Christ There Is No East or West (W-824), describes "one great family bound by love throughout the whole wide earth," echoing both the commandment in Exodus not to mistreat the foreigner and the commandment in the Gospel to love one's neighbor. At the 11:30 Mass, the Choir will sing the Hymn of Fellowship, using the same text.

At Communion, Ubi Caritas (W-702) sets the ancient text "Where true charity and love abide, God is dwelling there," showing both love of neighbor and love of God, as Jesus emphasizes in the Gospel. At the 11:30 Mass, the Choir will sing Come, My Joy, a newly composed anthem by the famous composer John Rutter. The text uses George Herbert's seventeenth-century poem that names Christ my Strength and my Heart, echoing both the Psalm and the Gospel. The Final Hymn, Joyful, Joyful, We Adore You (W-611), set to the melody of Beethoven's Ode to Joy, contains the prayer "Teach us how to love each other," recalling the Gospel's command.
